16TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

When he disembarked and saw the vast crowd, his heart was moved with pity for them, for they were like sheep without a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things.
Mt 6:34

Cuando Jesús desembarcó, vio una numerosa multitud que lo estaba esperando y se compadeció de ellos, porque andaban como ovejas sin pastor, y se puso a enseñarles muchas cosas.

Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time
Jesus, Our Peace

You probably know that the Jews in the first century did not particularly like the Gentiles. Some of them who became Christians still looked down on the non-Jewish Christians. In the epistle today, Paul addresses this problem by reminding them that Jesus died for all people, Jew and Gentile. And just as Jesus rose from the dead to a new life, the converts to Christianity were given a new life also. That new life of baptism joined them all to Christ, who lives in them, forgives them, and brings them peace. So why was that unity so hard to accept?

One reason is that as much as we complain about laws and regulations, many people like to live by them. We even make our own rules: "I always eat breakfast at 7:15," or "I have to read the newspaper every morning." Even though our rules may not be bad in themselves, if we get angry at anyone who interrupts our routine, those rules lead us to sin. But some of the Hebrew Christians thought that they still had to keep the laws and regulations of the old covenant. There is nothing wrong with keeping the Ten Commandments: They are simply examples of Jesus' command to love God with all your being and to love your neighbor as yourself. So why not just do that?

The problem with only keeping commandments is that we can avoid doing evil things, but still not love God or my neighbor. For example, we can avoid using God's name in vain and kick back and relax on the Sabbath, but still not really love God. We can keep from killing, robbing, or lying to our neighbor, without loving anyone. Fortunately for us, God loves us first; we need only respond to that love. And if we make the decision to love God and our neighbors, and base all our other actions on that love, we will not break any commandments, or even worry about breaking them. We will have the peace that Paul mentions in our reading, the peace that makes us all one in Christ.

Decimosexto Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario
Jesús, nuestra paz

Probablemente sepas que a los judíos del primer siglo no les caía muy bien los gentiles. Algunos de los que se hicieron cristianos todavía despreciaban a los cristianos no judíos. En la epístola de hoy, Pablo aborda este problema recordándoles que Jesús murió por todos, tanto judíos como gentiles. Y así como Jesús resucitó de entre los muertos a una nueva vida, a los conversos al cristianismo también se les dio una nueva vida. Esa nueva vida del bautismo los unió a todos a Cristo, quien vive en ellos, los perdona y les trae la paz. Entonces, ¿por qué fue tan difícil de aceptar esa unidad?

Una razón es porque aunque nos quejemos de las leyes y regulaciones, a muchas personas les gusta vivir según ellas. Incluso establecemos nuestras propias reglas: "Siempre desayuno a las 7:15" o "Tengo que leer el periódico todas las mañanas". Aunque quizás nuestras reglas no sean malas en sí mismas, si nos enojamos con alguien que interrumpe nuestra rutina, esas reglas nos llevan al pecado. Pero algunos de los cristianos hebreos pensaban que todavía tenían que guardar las leyes y regulaciones de la antigua alianza. No hay nada de malo en guardar los Diez Mandamientos: simplemente son ejemplos del mandato de Jesús de amar a Dios con todo tu ser y amar al prójimo como a ti mismo. Entonces, ¿por qué no hacerlo?

El problema de solamente guardar los mandamientos es que podemos evitar hacer cosas malas y todavía no amar a Dios ni al prójimo. Por ejemplo, podemos evitar usar el nombre de Dios en vano y descansar los domingos, pero aun así no amar realmente a Dios. Podemos evitar matar, robar o mentir al prójimo, sin amar a nadie. Afortunadamente para nosotros, Dios nos ama primero; sólo tenemos que responder a ese amor. Y si tomamos la decisión de amar a Dios y al prójimo, y basamos todas las demás acciones en ese amor, no violaremos ningún mandamiento, ni siquiera nos preocuparemos por violarlos. Tendremos la paz que Pablo menciona en la lectura de hoy, la paz que nos hace a todos uno en Cristo.
